

PRESS RELEASE

Trevor Bolder, bass player of the British hard rock legend Uriah Heep, is the new endorser of D'Alegria Custom Bases.

Trevor played with the Spiders From Mars, David Bowie's backing band in the beginning of the 70's, when they recorded classic albums such as "Hunky Dory", "Ziggy Stardust & The Spiders From Mars", and "Aladdin Sane".

In 1977 Trevor joined Uriah Heep, in replacement to John Wetton. With Heep he recorded albums like "Firefly", "Innocent Victim", "Fallen Angel" and "Conquest", amongst the 18 official albums featuring him in the band till today.

In the beginning of the 80's, Trevor joined Wishbone Ash briefly for the recordings of "Twin Barrels Burning" and the following tour returning to Uriah Heep a couple of years later, and has been with them ever since.

Trevor plays 4-string D'Alegria Defender JB passive basses, and he can be heard and seen in action on "Magic Night", a new Uriah Heep CD/DVD, being released by Classic Rock Productions now in January 2004.

The D'Alegria custom-made basses are totally handcrafted in Brazil, using Brazilian certified top woods and high quality hardware.
